Description
For developing purposes it is better to allow the Excel imports to commit after a batch of lines have been imported. I it really annoying to wait 10-20 minutes for the whole import to be completed to see the result in the database.

- Status changed from Resolved to Rejected

- Target version deleted (Release 4.3)

- Resolution set to wontfix

This would be nice to have but did not work after the initial implementation, solving the errors seems not worth it.
