Description
Since #5762 Rights are reusable. This is important e.g. for copyright statements for image where statements are used for a large number of media (e.g. salvador).
So we need to be able to <ul style="list-style-type: none">• choose from existing Rights• warning if one edits existing Rights that they might be used at many places• a Rights bulk editor (not so urgent)• ... ?

for reusability of rights we need a service to get the text and the uuid of the rights, maybe it would be nice to have the titleCache of the agent?

Don't know if I understand this exactly. Are you generally looking for a label to use? This is definitely the label inherited from LanguageString. Or are you suggesting that we could also add the agent information to the label to be more explicit?

Yes I thought about adding the agent to the label, because maybe the label is not enough, if there are different rights with the same or similar text. And maybe the user don't know the text but the rights holder and therefore he or she wants to search for the agent?

Seems to work (at least when removing unique key from MN tables).

Open issues:

- warning about multiple uses (handled now in a separate and general ticket #6487)
- Bulk Editor (please open new ticket or add to existing bulk editor ticket)

Generally this ticket can be closed
