- Subject changed from Specimen editor does not ask for saving when closing the workbench to Editors do not ask for saving when closing the workbench generalized topic because it happens for all e4 migrated editors while we are still using the e3-e4-bridge.

I added a check prior to closing the workbench where the user is asked to save the editors. Pressing "Cancel" will not stop the workbench from shutting down. This is only temporary as with full e4 migration the behavior is provided by the platform itself and works as expected.
