Description

If a feature tree in feature tree editor was changed and one clicks on "select new feature tree" a save dialog opens askin "You have to save ... Save now?". Answering with "NO" closes the dialog which is not the expected behavior.

We need "Save, no save, cancel" as sometimes one does not want to save the changes. Also the dialog statement needs to be changed to "You have unsaved changes. Do you want to save?"

By implementing #6746 we no longer have the option to choose a feature tree via the selection dialog but instead all feature trees are shown as root nodes in the editor.
