[DISCUSS] Separator for Code and Accession Number

Description
WGB: TitleCache: Ich würde ein Satzzeichen zwischen Herbarangabe und die dortige ID setzen, also statt (B B 10 0018600) lieber etwas wie (B: B 10 0018600). Zumindest wenn dieser „Title Cache“ auch für die Webausgabe genutzt werden soll. === An alternative could be to deduplicate the B's for Berlin Specimen. The 2 B's are a specific problem that does not occur often for other herbaria, at least not with a space after the second occurrence. For readability the B's could be deduplicated. (this approach is probably also discussed in some other ticket)

I agree with Walter, adding a ":" after the herbarium code would be the easiest.

NK:

Great, ":" as separator seems to me the best solution for this common problem with the barcode citation of very many herbaria, not only B! The spaces in the B barcode are a speciality but are anyway mostly ignored by users in citations (including me, purposely) and are not necessary for retrieval (and are also not used in the stable identifier!)
