We do use hibernate version 5.0.7 already. But as written in #4716 the problem still persists for hibernate-envers classes.

Should we close the ticket?

Well, the information given in this stack overflow post is not correct then.

Anyway I think we can close this ticket as the HHH90000003 warnings are purely informative notifications. As far as understand this issue we have nothing to do about this.

So please close it, if you agree.
