Description
Copied from #7439 :
By the way, changing data within the columns may become an option now. E.g. changing the specific epithet of a name might be more comfortable to do within the table than within the details view as the workflow is probably faster if you go through a long list of names. It was no option as long as only the titleCache was shown. Editing the titleCache should still only be possible if the cache is protected (same as in details view).
