Relationship type in details view allows all relationship types now in dropdown. As long as we do not allow other concept relationships explicitly we can probably completely remove this field as there are no alternative types (like pro parte MAN for MAN).

It would be nice to have a separate icon. MA stands for Misapplication. Can we have something like ID or IN. ID sounds like identifier so maybe IN is better.

The formatting is according to MAN now, with name author being "NON" author in the second row. Is this taken from the TaxonRelationshipFormatter or is it just c&p from MAN handling.

I am personally not sure about the correct formatting of invDesigns, but I think I would prefer same formatting as for ppSyns prior to MAN formatting.

Anyway we need to check correct formatting (#8055).

Maybe dark blue is very similar to the basionym icon. Maybe some red is a better. With red also indicating the "invalid" a bit more.

Now the icon is red.

There are still some related issues open (discussed via email). However, they are not inval. desig. specific and therefore we can close this ticket.
