Description
The option "Display is accepted for ... on taxon pages when coming from a synonym link." needs to be turned on for this (Layout>Taxon>Synonymy)
To reproduce:
<ul style="list-style-type: none">• Use the chichorieae data base• Add a footnote to Hypochaeris foliosa Vill. which is a herterotypic synonym to Hypochaeris uniflora
http://edit.test/d7/cichorieae/cdm_dataportal/taxon/e2b2af79-21bc-4a49-98d8-3b716ca26e9b/synonymy?highlite=c661ae18-da75-48c1-bd0d-8955ad2e4b8b&acceptedFor=c661ae18-da75-48c1-bd0d-8955ad2e4b8b#c661ae18-da75-48c1-bd0d-8955ad2e4b8b
This results in the footnote key being shown but the footnote text is missing.
Also the order of the footnotes is not correct here. Since the "is accepted for" page element comes after the synonymy the footnote key should have a value which is higher by 1 than the last footnote key in the synonymy.

I do not really understand the problem. On

What do we need "is accepted for" at all?

You need to turn the "is accepted for" as described in the description.

Then the problem becomes obvious:

What do we need "is accepted for" at all?

For the discussion related to this question i created a new ticket: #8339

#6 - 07/16/2019 05:23 PM - Andreas Kohlbecker

- Status changed from New to Feedback

- Assignee changed from Andreas Kohlbecker to Andreas Müller

#7 - 07/19/2019 04:38 PM - Andreas Müller

Don't know what kind of feedback is needed from my side?

#8 - 07/22/2019 07:48 AM - Andreas Kohlbecker

I think there is nothing to do about this ticket as long #8339 is not decided by 100%.

#9 - 10/01/2020 06:17 PM - Andreas Kohlbecker

- Status changed from New to Rejected

- Target version deleted (Unassigned CDM tickets)

no need for any action on this issue since we decided to remove "is accepted" completely, see #8339
