Description
Currently when choosing creating a new fact via "new" > "feature" only the feature is shown and gets the focus in the facts view which does not make much sense and cost lots of time when entering new facts in bulk. => #8585 In a second step we should try to set the focus to the "main" field in the details view. The field that should get the focus in the details view needs to be discussed for each subclass of DescriptionElementBase but for TextData it definitely should be the text field. Distributions: Area IndividualsAssociation: Specimen CategoricalData: ? (unclear, because first a new StateData needs to be created, or do we also want to automatically create the first StateData when creating the categorical data?) QuantitativeData: MeasurementUnit (but we could also think about creating a first measurement already) CommonName: Name
