This generally works as expected but in 20-30% of the cases after setting the focus it got lost immediately again though I did not press anything else after using the deduplication menu item.
Also the details view gets empty then so it looks like I clicked elsewhere.

Can you reproduce this and maybe fix it?

(maybe it is only my mouse which behaves strange sometimes, but something like this I did not recognize yet but here it happens quite often)

I tried several times, but never got this behaviour. Maybe we open a new ticket for the case it happens again for other users or for you with another mouse?

I also could not reproduce this anymore. So I think we can close this ticket and watch the deduplication in production.
